

Lesson 2 Lab 1

Organizing Content

Data Files:

Download coffee-makers.html to your folder

Download indexlab2.html to your folder

Download Definition List.txt to your folder

Before You Begin:

Open indexlab2.html with Notepad

Open coffee-makers.html with Notepad

Scenario:

You have created your home page with some text and graphics. You now intend to organize the content using headings, horizontal rules, and line breaks. You also intend to provide a product list to your users, with a brief description on each product.

1. In the indexlab2.html file, create a heading of level 2 with the title "For All Coffee Lovers" to the introduction paragraph. (4pts)
2. Insert a horizontal rule to separate the page footer from the rest of the page. (4pts)
3. Create a line break between the navigation bar and the disclaimer note. (4pts)
4. In the coffee-makers.html file, create a definition list with each product and its description found in the file you downloaded named Definition List.txt. (4pts)
5. Save both files and view them in Internet Explorer or Firefox. Put the files in your drop box.

Lab 2 Rubric

Requirements	Points	Score
Heading 2 For all coffee lovers	4pts
Horizontal Rule to separate footer	4pts
Line Break between navigation and disclaimer	4pts
Definition List	4pts
Total	16pts	