

Name: _____ Date: _____

Is it Copyright Protected or in the Public Domain?

It is very important for a web designer to be able to determine whether or not a photograph, song clip, or any other created work is copyright protected or something that falls within the public domain. Anything in the public domain is free for anyone to use for any reason they choose. For each of the items described below, indicate whether the items are copyright protected or if it is in the public domain.

Item to be considered	Copyright or Public Domain?
A photograph published in 1970 without a copyright notice.
A photograph taken and published by NASA in 2005
A poem published in 1900 with copyright protection, but the author died in 1940.
A photograph published in 1997 on a website without a copyright notice.
A song published in 1980 without a copyright notice or registration.
A photograph published in 1965 with a copyright notice.
A poem published in 1930 with copyright notice, but did not renew.
A photograph published in 1910 with copyright protection but the author died in 1950.
A song published in 1890
A photograph produced by the Department of the Treasury.	